

Haiti Mobility Data Platform | Privacy notice - legal version

Welcome to Flowminder's Privacy Notice.

This privacy notice provides information on how Flowminder, as a data controller, collects and processes your personal data when you visit our site to sign up for, and use, our service.

1. The data we collect about you

We may collect, use, store and transfer different kinds of personal data about you. Our site is designed to allow you to visit without revealing your identity. However, with your consent we use Google Analytics, which may collect personal data such as your IP address. We do not track your activities on other sites. Additionally, we collect personally identifiable information such as your name, address, and email address only when you voluntarily provide it to us, for example, when you register on the platform and subsequently log in.

2. How we use your personal data

We will only use your personal data for the purpose for which we collected it which include the following:

- To register you as a new customer.
- To permit you access to our service and to process and deliver your order.
- To manage your relationship with us
- To improve our website, products/services, marketing or customer relationships.

3. Visitors to our website

Person responsible for website visitors data protection: gdpr@flowminder.org.

We have developed this platform so that you can visit the information pages without registering and we do not make any attempt to find out the identities of those visiting our website.

Use of cookies by Flowminder Foundation

The cookies tools on our website rely on implied consent of users. In recognition of the fact that the implementation date for the revised e-Privacy Regulation remains unknown, we are taking reasonable steps now to align our use of cookies to the standard of consent required by GDPR.

'Cookies' are small text files placed on your computer, smartphone, or similar, by most websites. Cookies allow the website to recognise the device used to access the website and record information about visitors activities and preferences in order to improve the website's functionality and user experience. You can read our full cookies policy here and also find information on how to manage your cookies settings.

This platform uses cookies, installed by third-party services to help run the platform and provide a suitable service. These are:

These cookies allow us to improve user experience, run the website effectively and find out such things as the number of visitors to the various parts of the site.

How to change your cookies settings

Most web browsers permit users to control aspects of most cookies through their browser settings. You can follow the hyperlinks below for guidance on how to manage your cookies settings:

- Google Chrome
- Microsoft Edge
- Mozilla Firefox
- Microsoft Internet Explorer
- Opera
- Apple Safari

4. How we share your personal data

We may share your personal data with our service providers. We do not share your personal data with any third parties other than:

- Single sign-on providers (optional; currently Google, Microsoft), who already hold your data. We only share with them the fact that you have signed up for our service and when you log into it;
- Authentication as a service providers (currently Auth0), where we store our user database;
- Email service providers (currently Google) used to send automated emails such as sign-up confirmation and password resets.

Your data will only be used by that party for the purpose specified above. These services may place cookies on your computer. We don't have any way of knowing how each service handles your data internally.

5. International transfers

We may transfer, store and process your personal data outside the UK.

Auth0: provides access control and sign-in services to the platform. Details of their processing including International Transfers of personal data are listed here: <https://cdn.auth0.com/website/legal/Customer-Toolkit-Data-Transfers.pdf>

Sending data outside the UK and EEA

This section tells you about the safeguards that keep your personal information safe and private, if it is sent outside the UK and EEA.

We will only send your data outside of the European Economic Area ('EEA') to:

- Follow your instructions
- Comply with a legal duty
- Work with our suppliers who help us to run your accounts and services.

If we do transfer your personal information outside the UK and EEA to our suppliers, we will make sure that it is protected to the same extent as in the UK and EEA. We'll use one of these safeguards:

- Transfer it to a non-EEA country with privacy laws that give the same protection as the UK and EEA. Learn more on the European Commission Justice website.
- Put in place a contract with the recipient that means they must protect it to the same standards as the UK and EEA. Read more about this here on the European Commission Justice website.

6. Your legal rights

Under certain circumstances, you have rights under data protection laws in relation to your personal data including the right to receive a copy of the personal data we hold about you and the right to make a complaint at any time to the Information Commissioner's Office, the UK regulator for data protection issues (ico.org.uk).

7. Further details

If you are looking for more information on how we process your personal data including on data security, data retention and lawful processing bases, please access our website privacy policy on www.flowminder.org..
